

CONN®

CAS211 Conn Eb Alto Saxophone

Building on 150 years of history, Conn opens a new era of saxophones designed and made for today's saxophonist. Immediately recognizable with their lightweight, vintage style key guards and neck octave key, the new Conn saxophones stand out with strong construction, modern ergonomics, and the classic American saxophone sound: rich, free-blowing, and powerful.

Features

Tailored for the beginning saxophonist, the CAS211 neck and bore design enable an easy, responsive sound with superb intonation. Cold-forged brass keys are secured with post-to-body construction, finely balanced by blue steel springs, and carefully fitted with premium Pisoni pads.

Featuring a high F# key and tilting spatula mechanism, the CAS211 is protected in a strong and lightweight case and includes all the accessories you need to start your musical journey with a Conn saxophone.
